Parliamentary debates on the Local Better Regulation Order

The Parliamentary debates on the Local Better Regulation Order have been heard in both the Lords and the Commons this week. Led respectively by the Parliamentary Secretary for Business, Innovation and Skills, Baroness Wilcox, and Business Minister, Mark Prisk MP, the debates are important steps in the progress towards the creation of the Better Regulation Delivery Office (BRDO) within the Business, Innovation and Skills Department. Year Ahead for Regulatory Services

2 and 3 February, Holiday Inn, Stratford on Avon

A partnership between CIEH, LBRO and TSI, this conference will play an important role in shaping the regulatory services agenda and initiatives in the year ahead. Delegates will hear about best practice from high profile industry and council professionals showing how local authorities deliver a vital service with real benefits for local communities and support to local businesses. Participation in highly interactive workshops will also provide a chance to discuss key issues facing environmental health and trading standards. Book via the CIEH events page

Resources for Regulators Live

- 4. Common Approach to Competency

The day's agenda runs from 9.30am to 3.30pm. To reserve your place, email your three choices to enquiries@lbro.org.uk

Primary Authority training courses

LBRO is offering two training courses in Primary Authority on a cost recovery basis, at £99 per delegate.

Becoming a Primary Authority covers how to set up as a Primary Authority and offer expertise to support business compliance. It include topics such as operating as a regulator within the scheme; the relevance of cost-recovery and examples of models in use; examples of best practice delivering prosperity and protection; and supporting compliance, delivering assurance, and improving communication.

Making an impact through your partnership is for those delivering partnerships or those about to take on the role. Course topics include partnership management and resources; lessons learnt and ensuring a sustainable service; making an impact: Primary Authority advice and enforcing authorities; preparation, design and effective implementation of inspection plans; and how to achieve recognition for your partnership.
